May it please Your Majesty:

Our Majesties most loyall and faithfull Subjects, the Lords and Commons in Parliament, have duely considered the Message received from your Majesty concerning your purpose of going into Ireland in your own Person, to prosecute the War there with the bodies of your English subjects leavied transported, and maintained at their charge; which you are pleased to propound to us, not as a matter wherein your Majesty desires the advice of your Parliament, but as already firmly resolved on, and forthwith to be put in execution, by granting out Commissions for the leavying of 2000 Foot, and 200 Horle for a Guard for your Person when you shall come into that Kingdom; Wherein we cannot choose but with all reverence and humility to your Majosty, observe, That you have declined your great Councell, the Parliament, and varyed from the usuall course of your Royall Predecessors, that a businesse of so great importance, concerning the peace and safety of all your Subjects, and wherein they have a special line. rest by your Majesties promises, and by those great fums which they have disburfed, and for which they stand stand engaged, should be concluded and undertaken without their advice: Whereupon we hold it our duty to declare, That if at this time your Majesty shall go into Ireland, you will very much endanger the fafety of your Royall Person and Kingdome, and of all other States professing the Protestant Religion in Christendom, and make way to that cruell and bloudy designe of the Papills every where, to root out and destroy the Reformed Religion, as the Irish Papists have in a great part already effected in that Kingdom, and in all likely-hood would quickly be attempted in other places, if the consideration of the strength and union of the two Nations of England and Scotland did not much hinder and discourage the execution of any fuch defigne: And that we may manifest unto your Majesty the danger and misery which such a journey and enterprise would procure, we present to your Majesty the Reasons of this our humble Opinion and Advice.

- I. Your Royall Person will be subject, not onely to the casualty of War, but to secret practices and conspiracies, especially your Majesty continuing your profession to maintain the Protestant Religion in that Kingdome, which the Papists are generally bound by their vow to extirpate.
- II. It will exceedingly encourage the Rebells, who do generally professe and declare, That your Majesty doth favour and allow their proceedings, and this Insurrection was undertaken by the Warrant of your Commission; and it will make good their expectation pectation of great advantage by your Majesties Presence at this time of so much distraction in this Kingdome, whereby they may hope we shall be disabled to supply the War there, especially there appearing lesse necessity of your Majesties Journey at this time, by reason of the manifold successes which God hath given against them.

- III. It will much hinder and impair the means whereby this War is to be supported, and encrease the charge of ir, and in both these respects, make it more insupportable to your Subjects; And this we can confidently affirm, because many of the Adventurers, who have already subscribed, do upon the knowledge of your Majesties intentions, declare their resolutions not to pay in their money, and others very willing to have subscribed, do now prosesse the contrary.
- IV. Your Majesties absence must necessarily very much interrupt the proceedings of Parliament, and deprive your Subjects of the benefit of those further Acts of Grace, and Justice, which we shall humbly expect from your Majesty, for the establishing of perfect Union, and mutuall confidence be twist your Majesty, and your People, and procuring and confirming the prosperity and happinesse of both.
- V. It will exceedingly encrease the jealouses and fears of your People, and render the doubts of your Subjects, more probable of some force intended by some evill Councels neer your Majestie, in opposition to the Parliament, and favour of the maligness party of the Kingdom.

VI. It will bereave your Parliament of that advantage, whereby they were induced to undertake this War upon your Majesties promise, that it should be mannaged by their advice, which cannot be done if your Majesty contrary to their Councell, shall undertake to Order and Govern it in your own Person.

Upon which, and divers others Reasons, we have refolved, by the full and concurring agreement of both Houses, That we cannot with the duty which belongs to us, confent to any levies, or raising of Souldiers to be made by your Majesty, for this your intended expedition into Ireland, or to the payment of any Army, or Souldiers there; but such as shall be employed and governed according to our advice and direction; and that if such Levies shall be made by any such Commission of your Majesty, not agreed to by both Houses of Parliament, we shall be forced to interpret the same to be raised to the terror of your People, and disturbance of the publike Peace, and hold our felves bound by the Laws of the Kingdom, to apply the authority of Parliament to suppresse the fame.

And we do further, most humbly declare, That If your Majesty shall by ill Councell be perswaded to go, contrary to this advice of your Parliament (which we hope your Majesty will not:) We do not in that case hold our Selves bound to submit to any Commissioners which your Majestie shall chuse, but do resolve to preserve and govern the Kagdom by the Councell and advice of your Parliament, for your Majesty, and your Posterity, according to our Allegiance, and the Law of the Land.

Wherefore we humbly pray, and advise your Majesty to desist from this your intended passage into Ireland, and of all preparation of Men and Arms tending thereunto and to leave the mannaging of that Warre to your Majesties Parliament, according to your Majesties promise, made unto us, and your Royall Commission, granted under your great Seal of England, by advice of both Houses; In prosecution whereof, by Gods bleffing, we have made a prosperous entrance by many defeats of the Rebels; whereby they are much weakned, and disheartned, and have no probable means of subsistance if our proceedings shall not be interrupted by this interposition of your Majesties journey, but that we may hope upon good grounds, that within a short time, without hazard of your Majesties Person, and so much dangerous confusion to your Kingdoms, which must needs ensue, if you should proceed in this Resolution, we shall be enabled sully to Vindicate your Majesties Right and Authority in that Kingdom, and punish those horrible and outragious cruelties which have been committed in the murthering, and spoiling so many of your Subjects, and bring that Realm to such a condition, as may be much for the advantage of your Majesty and this Crown, the honour of your Government and Contentment of your People; for the better and more speedy effecting whereof, we do again
